

Ms. A. 9. 2. 14. 268

My dear Mrs. Chapman

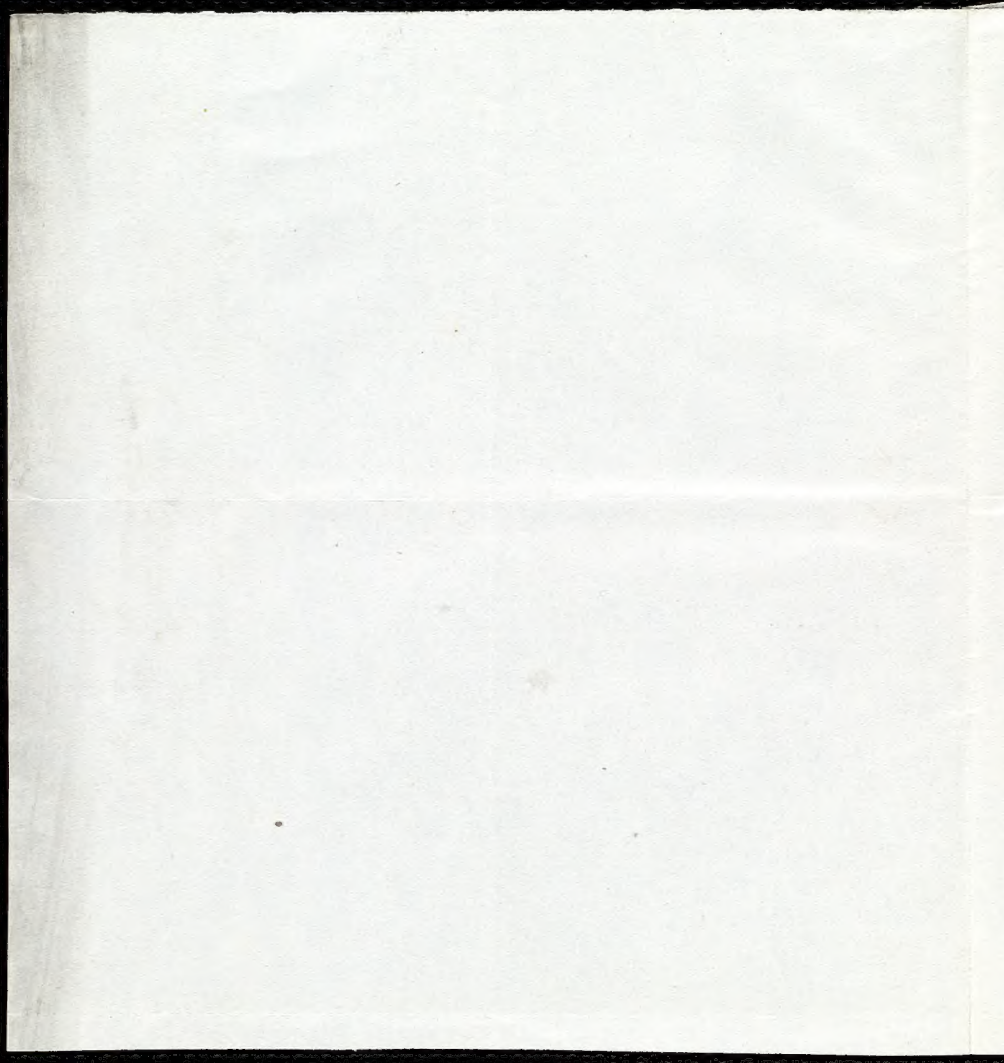

I send you the few articles I have prepared for the fair, regretting that it has not been in my power to contribute more largely. I hoped to have done much with my needle, but severe illness, through the autumn, has rendered it impossible.

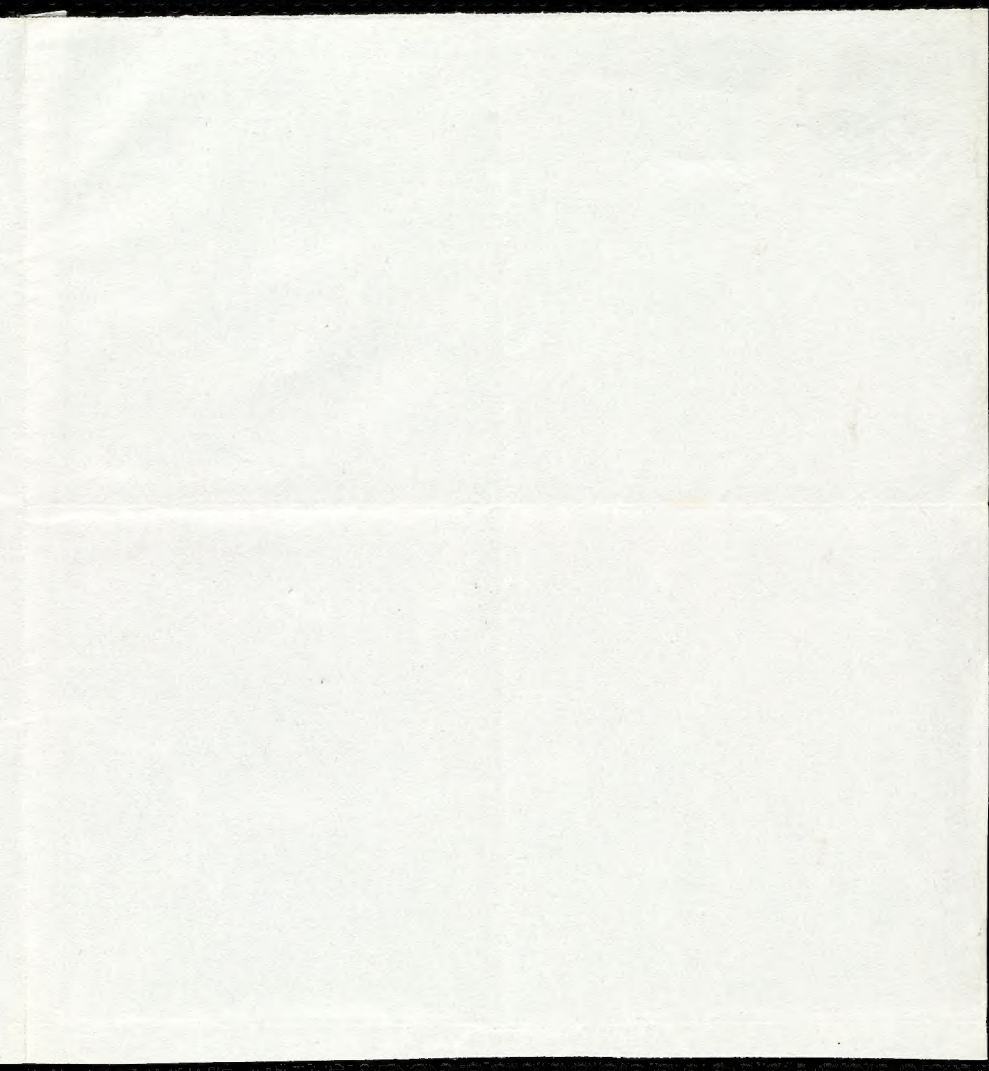

I have not prized the things sent, thinking some one else might better judge of their value.

Yours &c

Corneha C. Shorey.

14

Ms. A. 9. 2. 14. 96 B

Mrs. Maria W. Chapman
Boston

Jan